How does CoCounsel Core differ from public LLMs?

Guardrails for Reliability

Through retrieval augmented generation (RAG), CoCounsel bases its answers on legal authorities, documents, and other verified datasets to prevent "hallucinations" and similar errors.

Trained for the law

GPT-4 is powerful, but not dependable on its own for the law. Our lawyers and AI specialists spent years developing and testing a reliable solution.

Private and secure

CoCounsel accesses GPT-4 through dedicated servers, so user data is never used to train the AI model and is never stored by OpenAI.
